WHAT IS EPP?

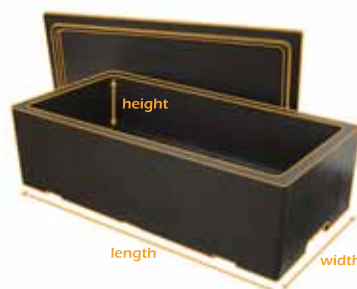

EPP is a material with unique properties which make it a trusted material within the automotive industry. Exceptional shock absorbency, durability and high strength to weight ratio lend itself to being suited for use in applications such as seating, bumpers and children's car seats.

These properties ensure EPP is particularly suited for repeat use along the supply chain where strength, weight reduction and material longevity are necessary when moving items from warehouse to branch.

Protective Transport Boxes are:

- Lightweight - easy to carry and aiding transport fuel efficiency
- Easy to clean, Waterproof, Durable and Re-usable
- Provide insulation from external elements and fluctuating temperatures

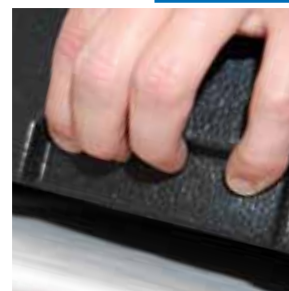

Our lightweight boxes reduce unnecessary costly damage to valuable, sensitive electronics and other products from accidental transit and manual handling mishaps. Reusable, these boxes are ideal for transporting goods to satisfy customer demand for product lines which need frequent replenishment.
